Eisenhower Leaves Army

Battlejacket Traded For Campaign Hat

Washington, June 2—(AP)—The Army said today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will retire tomorrow at his own request—and will stop drawing his $19,542 a year in military pay and allowances.

Retirement will free the general from the Army's rule against officers taking an active part in politics and will enable him to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Earlier word from the Pentagon was that Eisenhower would continue to draw his pay and allowances unless he resigned his commission, as he has said he will do.

Maj. Gen. Floyd Parks, the army's information chief, said Eisenhower "definitely will be on a retired status" when he leaves tomorrow for Abilene, Kan.

His first out-of-uniform speech will be at Abilene, Kan., on Wednesday. His hometown friends there are preparing a giant welcome ceremony. The little town of 7,000 is expecting 50,000 visitors and the event, in effect, will launch the final phase of the Eisenhower-for-President drive.

Free To Answer Critics

Since the army's orders are in his hands, Eisenhower will be free if he chooses to answer the barbed criticism that already is coming from the camp of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio—his chief opponent for the GOP presidential nomination.

Taft's campaign headquarters has challenged the general's ability to wage a victorious fight against the Democrats. And Taft has asserted bluntly in a speech "there has been a steady deterioration in our comparative air power which began while Gen. Eisenhower was chief of staff."

This was a reference to the post-war 1945-48 period during which Eisenhower was army chief of staff—the period of demobilization in the air force, army, navy and marines.

Since returning yesterday, Eisenhower had made no statements that could be interpreted as having a political tinge. He has insisted he would not be drawn into political talk until after he was in civilian clothes.

The general began his last full day in uniform with a visit this morning to Walter Reed hospital where he had a check made of his eyes and teeth. He has had a touch of conjunctivitis, or pinkeye, but the ailment was reported to be responding to treatment.

Visits Vandenberg

At the hospital, he called on Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, who is recovering from a serious operation.

Then Eisenhower went through a series of scheduled conferences including a meeting with the North Atlantic military groups and others, a second visit to the White House to talk with President Truman, and a meeting with Secretary of State Acheson.

Tomorrow he will hold his final conferences, including a meeting with the press at 9 a.m. CDT. Reporters have been told only will answer questions relating only to military matters—not politics. He will hold another news conference at Abilene on Thursday.

DENTIST SAYS, 'STOP WORRYING'

Montreal, June 2—(P)—Dr. Albert Lafreniere of Montreal says dentists would have less work if people would stop worrying.

He told the closing of the annual meeting of the American Academy of Dental Medicine that with the world situation so tense and prices sky-rocketing, everyone seems to be "grinding their teeth."

"It may be hard to believe, but the state of the nation has a lot to do with the dental mortality rate," he said.

Strike Hits Turnout Of Korean Jets

Farmingdale, N.Y., June 2—(P)—Strikers defied their union leaders today and closed the Big Republic Aviation Corp. plant here, completely halting its turnout of jet planes for the Korean front.

The company called it a Wildcat strike by about 40 per cent of the 5,200 day shift employees. About 60 per cent followed union heads to work through picket lines but were sent home by the company in mid-afternoon.

Grievance machinery, not wages, was at issue among certain members of the AFL International Association of Machinists.

The company issued a statement branding the strike "a shocking example of irresponsibility for a union which pledged in a contract not to call a strike for any reason."

Fred H. Cooney, vice president of the machinists, ordered the employees back to work and called the strike "unauthorized and unsanctioned."

The hard-core Communists were erecting their flagpole in the face of a statement by Gen. Mark Clark that no nonsense would be tolerated from the 80,000 Red POWs on this trouble-ridden island.

Prison camp headquarters said a North Korean POW was wounded last night while trying to escape. A South Korean guard had wounded a Red prisoner earlier in the day.

The camp commander granted permission for spokesman of three unruly compounds to confer with him separately this afternoon. The Reds, from compounds 85, 92 and 96 holding North Korean enlisted men, had requested the talks by letter.

Two of these three compounds still were flying Red Korean flags today in defiance of orders. American infantrymen with rifles and bayonets at their sides went to work again today patching holes in the Communist camp perimeter in the sagging inner strand of three barbed wire fences around compound 605. The Reds made no demonstration.

Clark flew here for a brief inspection yesterday. His deputy in command of the sprawling stockade, Brig. Gen. Haydon L. (Bull) Boatner, has moved firmly in the past week to restore Allied control over the unruly POWs.

Patton tanks and about 160 soldiers, carrying bayonet-tipped rifles and wearing gas masks barged into compound 602 yesterday only five minutes after the deadline Boatner had set for the Reds to lower their flag.

The Patton toppled the flagpole and GIs carried out the Red banner which had been flying for months over the compound as a symbol of Communist defiance.

One Red prisoner was wounded by a South Korean guard in a brief disorder shortly after Clark left the island.

The United Nations supreme commander talked to correspondents briefly on his first trip to Koje to check on measures being taken to restore order and obedience among arrogant, trouble-making prisoners.

"The maximum amount of force necessary will be used to make rebellious prisoners obey orders," Clark said firmly.

Phantom Gunman Shoots At Cars, Police On Alert

Springfield, Ill., June 2—(P)—A fourth "phantom gunman" incident on Illinois highways was reported today and state police put on a drive to get to the bottom of the strange business.

Thomas J. O'Donnell, state police chief, sent out an alert to four districts, instructing officers to halt and investigate lone motorists in late model, dark blue Ford sedans.

The search order went out to policemen patrolling roads around Joliet, Plainfield, Decatur, Lincoln and Springfield.

In four cases reported in five days, motorists told authorities that they were fired on. One suffered wounds in the hand, apparently from a bullet that penetrated a car window. The other three were unhurt.

Twice, shots were reported fired from a speeding blue sedan as it whizzed past. The driver was said to have leaned out and discharged a pistol at the intended victim.

In the third instance, near Lincoln on Sunday, details were skimpier but a bullet was reported fired from a dark sedan. The first two incidents, also on U.S. 66, happened nine hours apart last Thursday near Plainfield.

Today, Edward Smith, 27, of St. Louis, reported to Macon county authorities that his car was struck near the rear window as he was driving on route 48 near Decatur.

Looking back, Smith said, he saw a man jump out of roadside bushes, get into a blue sedan and drive away. O'Donnell said there were no witnesses to any of the shooting incidents.

BOLIVIA TIN MINE PLAN

La Paz Bolivia, June 2—(P)—Bolivia's government today gave a ten man commission 120 days to work out a procedure for nationalizing the nation's three big tin mines, those of the Patino, Aramayo and Hochschild interests.

The nationalization has been expected since the April revolution installed Victor Paz Estenssoro as president.

Memorial Day Holiday Costs Nation 500 Lives

By the Associated Press
Observance of the three-day Memorial Day holiday this year cost the nation more than 500 lives—a record number for the holiday.

Traffic accidents accounted for at least 363 dead, the worst highway slaughter for an extended Memorial Day weekend in the nation's history.

Accidents Increase, HST Asks Teeth In Safety Laws

Washington, June 2—(P)—President Truman said today industrial accidents last year took 16,000 lives, disabled two million workers and cost nearly five billion dollars. He called it a "shocking national tragedy."

Addressing the annual conference on industrial safety, Truman called for quick house passage of a bill, already approved by the Senate, to give the government authority to enforce mine safety standards.

"Every day of delay invites further disasters," he said. "Senate action on the legislation came early this year after a mine explosion in West Frankfort, Ill., killed more than 100 persons. Truman said he hopes the House will pass the bill very soon. It has the backing of John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers.

He said that practically all industrial injuries are preventable, the president emphasized "the importance of conserving the skills of the nation for the needs of defense production," and he told the safety conference:

"We badly need all our manpower in order to build up our defenses to achieve a permanent peace in the world."

Under existing law, he said, the government can set standards of safety, make inspections and offer recommendations, but has no enforcement power.

Postal Workers May Receive Checks Soon

Washington, June 2—(P)—Sen. McKellar (D-Tenn.) today predicted an ear end to a House-Senate controversy which has held up the paychecks of about 400,000 postal employees and some other government workers.

McKellar, chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, said the Supreme Court decision on the steel plant seizure today "removed all obstacles to passage of the third supplemental appropriations bill" which carries funds for the postal and certain other government workers.

He predicted the measure will be passed this week and others affected by postal workers and others affected will receive their checks as soon as the president signs the bill.

A House-Senate conference is scheduled on the bill tomorrow and McKellar told a reporter there is no doubt the conferees will be able to agree now that the steel question is settled.

Paychecks due today were held up because the postoffice department has run out of money. The supplemental bill to provide funds for the remainder of the fiscal year has been passed by both Houses, but the legislation has been tied up in the conference committee over House refusal to accept a Senate provision prohibiting use of special appropriations for operation of the seized steel mills or other private property.

While the bill was tied up in conference the House passed a resolution to permit the postoffice department to continue paychecks until June 16.

But the Senate tacked on the same provision to the resolution and this stopgap measure went back to the House appropriations committee.

Besides the postal workers, paychecks for work done after May 15 are held up for small defense plants administration and railroad retirement board employees.

Deny Puerto Rican Trial Review In Assassination Try

Washington, June 2—(P)—The Supreme Court today all but doomed Oscar Collazo to the electric chair for his part in trying to assassinate President Truman.

The high tribunal refused to review Collazo's first degree murder conviction.

That means the fiery Puerto Rican nationalist will be put to death on a date yet to be fixed unless Truman himself commutes the sentence. Truman has intervened in several capital punishment cases since he became president in 1945 but has been bitter about the death of the White House policeman in the assassination plot.

Collazo, now 38, was convicted in the slaying of a White House police private, Leslie Coffelt, who was shot when Collazo and a companion, Grisho Toledo, tried to storm their way into Blair House on Nov. 1, 1950.

Off the highways, 85 persons were drowned and 62 others died in various accidents of a violent nature.

This year's record breaking traffic toll for the three-day period exceeded by 16 the previous Memorial Day all-time high of 347, reported in 1950. And that was for a four-day Memorial weekend. The previous three-day toll was 253 in 1949.

The highway toll brought this comment from Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council:

"The nation's drivers have piled up the biggest Memorial Day traffic toll in history—larger even than the four-day toll two years ago. "This is certainly nothing to be proud of and is an ominous way to begin the vacation season."

The Safety Council at the outset had estimated at least 310 persons would die in traffic over the weekend. Later it revised the figure to 350.

S. Dakota Primary Gives Direct Test Between Ike, Taft

By the Associated Press
South Dakota primary Tuesday provides last direct test between Taft and Eisenhower forces; California also votes.

Right now Eisenhower still trails Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in the scramble for the G.O.P. presidential nomination. And the outcome of today's primary in South Dakota can't possibly change that alignment.

Yet an element of prestige, out of proportion to the 14 convention delegates involved, is at stake in the South Dakota balloting. For Taft and Eisenhower are meeting head-on there for the last time before the Republican convention in Chicago next month.

A Taft victory could rub some of the glitter off the homecoming of the general who twice was supreme commander of all Allied forces in Europe. A win for Eisenhower would demonstrate political pulling power, at a strategic moment, in the Midwest where Taft generally is considered strongest.

The two major rivals have the contest to themselves. Write-in votes will be tossed out. To the politicians, it looked as if the winner would be determined by a headline edge in a primary that might bring out 120,000 voters.

In the Democratic contest, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was on hand in person to try to button up eight delegates South Dakota will send to the Democratic convention. The opposition was a slate put together by State Democratic leaders not committed definitely to anybody.

By the end of this week Republican will have picked all but 13 of the 1,206 delegates for their national convention that begins July 7. In addition to those in South Dakota and California, six will be chosen Thursday from the District of Columbia and 32 from Indiana and two from Virginia on Saturday.

Before today's results were posted, the Associated Press count-of-delegates whose positions are known showed this line-up:

Republicans—Taft 420 votes, Eisenhower 387, needed for nomination 604.

Democrats—Kefauver 150, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia 865, Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman 851, needed to nominate 616.

Man Registers 30 Times For Draft, Gets 5 Years

Chicago, June 2—(P)—A 21-year-old Chicago man was sentenced today to five years in prison for false registrations for selective service.

The sentence was imposed upon Robert W. Freidmann by Judge J. Sam Perry in Federal District Court.

Freidmann admitted registering "about 30 or 40 times" to obtain cards later used as identification to cash checks he said he stole from mail boxes.

Judge Perry sentenced Freidmann to five years probation for theft of the letters. The terms are to be served consecutively.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Irwin Cohen estimated Freidmann last year netted about $7,000 from the draft card fraud. The false registrations, Cohen said, resulted in Jo Willie Riley, a gold star mother, being ordered to report for induction after Freidmann stole a check from the woman's mail box and registered in her name.

TRAIN BOILER EXPLODES

Santiago, Chile, June 2—(P)—A locomotive boiler exploded near here yesterday, killing the engineer, the fireman and a woman and her two small daughters in a nearby house.

The locomotive was pulling a freight train through a mountainous section. The woman and children were killed by parts of the boiler that hit their house.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK

Audubon, Ia., June 2—(P)—Three hundred youngsters turned out for the fish day here yesterday—and caught only one fish among them.

The fish day, sponsored by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held in a small artificial lake which had been stocked with 3,000 bullheads for the occasion.

The sponsors announced another fishing contest will be held Wednesday to determine winners of some 100 prizes donated by Audubon business men.

US To Keep Full Rights In Berlin

BULLETIN
Berlin, Tuesday, June 3—(P)—British military police threw a barbed wire barricade around the Russian-operated Radio Berlin at dawn today, sealing off this Communist outpost within the British sector of the divided city.

Washington, June 2—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson warned Russia tonight that the United States intends to "maintain our full rights" in Berlin.

Accusing the Soviets of executing a series of threatening gestures in Berlin and along the borders of Western Germany, Acheson declared in a radio and television report to the American people:

"These actions of the Soviet Union shall not succeed in their purpose, which is to deflect or delay the continued progress of the European Defense Community."

"We shall meet these and such other actions as may occur in the future with quiet determination and steadiness."

As for Berlin, which lies within the Soviet zone of occupied Germany, Acheson said:

"The situation requires us to maintain our full rights as an occupation power."

Acheson spoke out a few hours after President Truman urged Congress for speedy ratification of plans to include West Germany in Europe's alliance against the threat of Communist aggression.

Both Truman and Acheson underscored the joint American-British-French warning last week that the three nations would regard any attack on Berlin as an attack against themselves.

Truman told Congress that Russia is desperately trying to block German unity while professing to advocate an end to the East-West split.

5 Miners Missing In Michigan Mine Disaster

Ironwood, Mich., June 2—(P)—Five miners were missing tonight and believed trapped in a cave-in half a mile underground in Republic Steel's Penokee iron ore mine near here.

A rescue crew of 60 men labored at the scene, tunneling from three sides into the area where the accident occurred. A crowd which included families and relatives of the five missing men gathered at the mine, waiting for word.

Mine authorities refused to comment on what type of mishap had occurred but expressed hope that the five men might have made their way safely to a parallel tunnel.

One man, George Soderman of Ironwood, apparently on the edge of the mine accident, stumbled from the mine dazed and hysterical. Authorities could not get a coherent statement from him.

An unidentified miner, one of eight who fled to safety through an escape hatch, said:

"We heard a loud crack, then there was a rush of air and dust and we made tracks."

Only yesterday three miners were killed in an explosion in a mine on the Menominee iron range near Iron River in Michigan's upper peninsula.

Deny Taft Free Air Time To Equal Ike's Abilene Talk

New York, June 2—(P)—The ABC and CBS networks have turned down a request by Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for free air time to match the broadcast of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's Abilene, Kas., speech Wednesday, it was announced today.

NBC, which also plans to carry Eisenhower's speech, has made no decision yet on whether to give Taft equal time.

ABC, a spokesman said, told Taft that "all we are doing for General Eisenhower is what previously we have done for you and other candidates."

CBS, which received a similar request from Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee said both Taft and Kefauver had been notified that the network considers Eisenhower's speech a news event and not a political speech.

HIGH COURT SAYS 'PINKY' OK

Washington, June 2—(P)—The Supreme Court today struck down a movie censor ordinance by which the city of Marshall, Tex., disapproved the showing of the film "Pinky."

FOUR AND SIX YEAR OLD REFUGEES TO BECOME AMERICANS

Washington, June 2—(P)—Two tots from Europe began life anew today as American youngsters with Sen. and Mrs. Fred Seaton (R-Neb.) as their foster parents.

Seaton had one under each arm as he stepped off a plane from New York, shy blond Alfred, 4, and eager brunette Monica, 6.

A month ago both were in war refugee camps, their homes for several years. Monica is of French-German ancestry and Alfred is German-English.

Sen. and Mrs. Seaton flew to Munich, Germany, late in May. Last Monday they saw the youngsters for the first time. The Displaced Persons Commission had arranged for the Seaton to adopt them.

It was just about a case of love at first sight for both the Seaton and the children, the senator told a reporter today.

Alfred, a thin-faced boy, and Monica, with a mischievous oval face, glanced around rapidly, taking in the crowd and big planes at National airport as photographers snapped their pictures.

They had never seen each other until a few weeks ago and are not related. "Now they won't get six feet apart," their new papa related. "Alfred is quiet and Monica keeps busy telling him what to do. There's no doubt, she's the boss."

The children don't speak English. Seaton's German is largely a memory from college days.

"But they react to simple words, and that's all I remember, so we managed to get along," he said.

He had some aid on the Atlantic flight from Faye Emerson and her husband, Skitch Henderson. Faye helped entertain the youngsters.

HIGH COURT SAYS 'PINKY' OK

Washington, June 2—(P)—The Supreme Court today struck down a movie censor ordinance by which the city of Marshall, Tex., disapproved the showing of the film "Pinky."

Justice Black, speaking for the majority in what may be one of the great cases of all time, said neither the law nor the constitution gave the president the right to seize the mills on April 8.

Chief Justice Vinson, speaking for the three dissenters, said the majority had taken a "messenger-boy concept" of the presidency, that it was Harry Truman's duty to seize the mills in an effort to stop a disastrous strike.

By its action, the court ruled that the mills must be returned to their owners, and Truman soon signed the order which returned the mills. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, their technical boss, immediately notified the 51 steel company presidents.

Philip Murray, president of the 650,000 steelworkers, reacted almost instantaneously to the court's action.

"In the absence of a wage agreement," Murray said, "our members have no alternative than to cease to work."

At the same time, Murray called on the steel companies to resume negotiations to settle the dispute over wages which has existed since the first of the year.

Some hours later the companies announced in New York a willingness to resume bargaining. "The companies will of course sit down with the union without delay to try to reach a fair settlement of the steel strike," said John A. Stephens, vice president of U.S. Steel and a spokesman for the industry.

Truman's Courses
Truman now can follow several courses:

1. He can invoke the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley act.

2. He can ask congress to give him specific seizure powers.

3. He can do both.

Truman already has said the course he pursued took the place of the Taft-Hartley act procedure and that instead of the 80-day "cooling off" period the nation really got 99 days through union postponements of a strike.

Besides, the Taft-Hartley act calls for the appointment of a fact-finding board to report on the labor dispute issues. Not until it reported back to the president could he go into court and ask for an injunction to end the strike. That might take a week or more.

As for No. 2, Truman twice has told congress that if it didn't like his course of action it should give him a plan of operation it approved. Congress has done nothing so far.

National Production Authority embargoed all shipments of steel from retail warehouses to consumer goods producers. NPA said most manufacturers have at least a 30-day supply of steel. Many have a 45-day supply.

But automobile makers, NPA said had only a two-week steel supply and soon will run into difficulties if the strike continues.

Naturally, the steel industry was jubilant over the court's decision.

From Charles M. White, president of Republic Steel: "The decision should be heartening to every freedom-loving man and woman throughout the world."

A prolonged steel strike may be in the offing but, regrettable as a Judge Pine stated, it is far better than further intrusion of government into private rights.

Justice Black's Opinion
Justice Black wrote the majority opinion which gave a resounding "No" to this question:

Did Truman have the right to take over the mills on the grounds that he had to do so to prevent a national emergency?

Actually, the justices said no six different ways. Each of the six—Black, Burton, Clark, Jackson, Douglas and Frankfurter—wrote an opinion explaining his No.

'DATING' STONEHENGE

Once again a date—within a range of 550 years, that is—has been set for the construction of Stonehenge, the most treasured megalithic monument in Great Britain.

The two concentric circles of stones approximately 20 feet high erected in Salisbury plain around two lines of stones with what is supposed by some scientists to have been an altar or sacrificial stone in the middle far antedate written European history. Archeologists for a century and a half have wrangled over its origin.

But there were evidences of earlier culture. Now it is Prof. W. F. Libby of the University of Chicago who fixes the date as 1848 B. C., or at least within 275 years earlier or later. It isn't done by radiocarbon. It isn't done by mirrors. A little piece of charcoal tells the story, or purports to.

This was found deep down in a hole in which it is believed one of the huge stones stood. Professor Libby reaches his conclusion by appraising the rate of decay of the radioactive carbon content of the charcoal.

His figure is close enough to give joy to supporters of Sir Norman Lockyer, who was convinced that the monument was erected in the plain by sun worshipers, and calculated that the sun passed directly over the "sacrificial stone" in 1680 B. C.

Nobody knows, and probably nobody ever will know, who built Stonehenge and why. But it is a grand subject of dispute for the learned societies.

NATIONALIZATION FAILS

Paralysis of Iran's oil industry, following nationalization decreed by the government, is complete. The situation in that country is still explosive, and remains one of the most serious problems to be solved in behalf of world peace.

For 50 years the British operated the oil industry in Iran until the politicians in Iran decided there was more money for them in nationalization.

In 1950, a typical year, Iran received more than 16-000,000 pounds as its share of royalties. It constituted the major income of the nation. After months of negotiation, which produced no terms acceptable to the British, production—which had reached more than 31,000,000 tons from five major fields in 1950—slowed down to zero.

Efforts by the Iranian government to sell the oil have proved fruitless. England refuses to buy. Russia is in the market, but Iran officials hesitate to deal with Moscow for political reasons, and transportation to Russia is difficult.

Iran has oceans of petroleum and no customers. As a result, the nation faces bankruptcy. Nationalization has failed in Iran as it has in Britain. In Russia it is being bolstered by resources and products drained from satellite countries.

Private enterprise is the only answer to Iran's problem, but that country's politicians seem willing to see their country wrecked rather than admit they were wrong.

ENTERING THE THIRD YEAR:
THE POOR MAN'S PHILOSOPHER
ON THE KOREAN CONFLICT

BY HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—There is wide cry on the world's calendar this month—the beginning of the third year of the Korean war.

Barring a resumption of large-scale fighting or a sudden and successful conclusion of the truce talks, the end of the second year of the conflict will find both sides roughly where they were when it started.
June 25, 1950—astride the 38th parallel.

They have been virtually stale-mated for nearly a year.

Both sides now are incomparably stronger than they were at the outset of the war. But the disarming fact that in the last year, despite day-and-night hammering by allied planes, the enemy has doubled his troops along the front from 500,000 men to 1,000,000. He has 600 tanks and armored guns ready, more than twice the number he had in 1950.
His artillery is also greater. His airpower has doubled or tripled.

The allies virtually destroyed the first enemy—the North Korean army. Their main foe now is the Chinese Reds, armed with many of the latest and best weapons made by Soviet Russia which remains serenely out of the battle.

Both congress and the nation
weary of Russia's war of nerves, backed President Truman's decision to go into Korea.

It looked at the start as only a job for the regular army—an oriental grassfire that could quickly be stamped out. But today most of the Americans in uniform in Korea are civilians, called to duty. Month by month the war has touched more and more American families.

There is a great unrest about this strange twilight, far-off struggle that goes on and on and has cost this nation alone some 100,000 casualties.
Americans aren't used to seeing themselves in the plight of a man who has got his hand stuck in fly-paper and can't get it off.

"What kind of a war is this?" they say, impatiently. "Let's get it over with."

But as of now only three things can be said for sure about the Korean business:

1. It did stop in its tracks the attempts of Communism to expand by blitz force.
2. It woke up America to the bitter truth it wasn't ready to defend itself, and had become the fat boy of the post-war world.

Hollywood wailing. And now it's Orson Welles' turn to barbecue Hollywood at a costume ball he will host in Rome this summer.

Orson's guests have been asked to come dressed as the Hollywood type that strikes them as the most ridiculous. He's even hired Lester Lanin to his band to fly to Rome and play at the affair. All members of the orchestra will be costumed as Hollywood geniuses, complete with loud sports jackets and dark glasses.

The Red Shadow rides again in "The Desert Song," you say?

No, sir. Times have changed. Red's a subversive word in Hollywood, even when applied to a shadow. So Gordon MacRae, starring in the Warner remake of "The Desert Song," will be the mysterious El Khobar instead of the Red Shadow.

It's Gordon's biggest role to date and he's beaming: "It's terrific. I'm a regular Douglas Fairbanks, Jr."

Fox executives are screaming over the reported fact that they've purchased Hopkin's Joyce's life story for $75,000 and June Haver is positively aghast over the rumor that she'll play the off-married Peggy.
Not true, studio officials say, though they admit they were offered the chance to buy Peggy's autobiography.

MYSTIFIED HORSE THIEF
Steve Cochran's winning over the Legion of Decency "C" rating on
"The Lion and the Horse." He can't understand it.

"There's no sex, and no shoot-em-up stuff," he remarked. "I guess the only objection is that I stole a horse and got away with it."

Sounds like the beginning of the end, but Travis Kieffeld is sailing airlines hostess who recently sold Roberto Rossellini an original screen play based on the life of Mussolini, will be screened by UI in New York... Cara Williams, who deserted movies for TV, spends the evenings, she's not before the cameras with Nelson Watersbury, the young millionaire-inventor.

Ava Gardner's having sacrilegious trouble... Errol Flynn's flying a one-seater plane these days and talking about winging it to England.
Ann Blyth will duet with Mario Lanza in "The Student Prince." It will be regular Jeanette MacDonald stuff for Ann, who's been waiting for the big singing chance for years.

VIDEO BUG BITES
Richard Carlson, back in Hollywood for "Flat Top," is admitting he may star in a live TV series from New York. Bug-eyed about video, he declares.

"More people saw me in one night on the Robert Montgomery show than would see me if I starred every night in a Broadway show for 36 years, or in one of my movies played every night for six years at the Music Hall."

French ballet beauty Ludmilla
Tcherina is due back in Hollywood this month, but not to see Robert Taylor. She'll star in a musical...
Binnie Barnes will menace Joan Fontaine in "Decameron Nights," the movie that her hubby, Mike Frankovitch is producing in Spain.

Here's a headache for Darryl Zanuck, who has announced "King

as his next big Biblical epic. Italian Producer Giuseppe Amato will film
"The Queen of Sheba" in Rome before the year is out.

The MATURE PARENT

When a Child's Convalescing,
Show Your Joy at His Recovery

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dave was born as an unexpected dividend to my friend Ethel and her husband after 10 years of childless but happy marriage. He and his parents know each other extremely well, the way we are apt to when we feel free to tell those we love what we really think and feel.

One day when he was about seven and just getting over a severe cold,
I took him some ice cream and a game. He had just finished his supper and as his mother removed his tray, she saw that his glass of orange juice was still half full.

She gave it back to him. "Hurry up and drink it," she said. "You need all the ascorbic acid you can get to get well."

She was tense with strain of her week's nursing. When Dave said, "I don't want any more orange juice now," her voice was sharpened.

"Look here," she said, "I've been climbing stairs all day trying to keep you happy, and I'm tired. I've worked as hard as I can today and now I want cooperation. Drink up that juice and no more talk."

As I said, Dave is a child who has not been taught fear of thinking or of expressing his thoughts. He took the glass from his mother and placed it on the table beside the bed.

"Why did you work so hard today, silly?" he asked her. "I'm not sick any more. So sit down and take it easy for a change, mom. I'll drink the juice before I go to sleep. I'll drink all the juice you want if you'd just take it easy for a second..."

Dave's mother looked at me and her lips began to tremble. When I got up and left them, her head was on Dave's lap and he was patting her shoulder, saying gruffly, "That's right, mom. You're just tired. Just take it easy. I'm feeling swell now..."

He'll make a nice husband for someone someday.

It's a blessed thing for us when convalescent children can be articulate about their objections to our overanxiety about their health. Though they are not always so kind as Dave in rebuking our strain and tension, their impatience is nearly always their way of saying, "Take it easy now."

The irritation with which they receive our anxious pleas and demands to drink this and eat that is seldom resistance to medicine or food. It is resistance to the fear they sense in us.

This they find depressing.

Nearly always children know whether our fussing over them is motivated by fear of relapse, or more contagion, or whether it is motivated by joy at their recovery. Just check back in your own experience of nursing your convalescent offspring. If your fussing has been relieved, happy fussing, have they objected to it? Of course they haven't.

But let overanxiety replace the gratitude we should be feeling—and the child who said, "Oh, that tastes wonderful, mother," will say, "Take it away. I told you I didn't want any more of that stuff, didn't I?"

I am not suggesting that we should be so heroic as to feel no anxiety when Harry or Jane is still ill. What I'm talking about is the way we sometimes fail to show joy at the recovery of our youngsters health, and continue to exhibit yesterday's panic and strain.

Convalescent children who strike out at our oversolicitude are our best friends. They are telling us to rest from fear. They are saying,
"What's the matter with you, mother? Aren't you happy I'm better?"

Take Care Against Infections

Spotted Fever Ticks Produce

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Rocky Mountain spotted fever is an acute infectious disease which has been found in all but two or three states and in Canada, Mexico and other parts of the world. It is caused by a tiny agent called a rickettsia and is spread by the bite of ticks. The spring and early summer are the times when it is most common.

The death rate from spotted fever varies from place to place and season to season and formerly about one in four of those stricken died.
As in so many other diseases, prevention is important. In places in which ticks are common, the wearing of protective clothing (high boots and one-piece outer clothing) is advised.

The destruction of ticks, is of course, highly desirable, and since the disease can be carried by dog ticks, as well as the more commonly involved wood tick, care against infection from this source should be carefully planned.

Those who are exposed to ticks should search themselves carefully at least twice a day and remove any ticks with ether, chloroform, or by using forceps. Removal by bare fingers is dangerous.

The disease develops suddenly after an incubation period of about two to 10 days. Chills, fever, and severe pains especially in the arms and legs are characteristic. The fever is high from the beginning.

A curious rash, which has given the disease its name, "spotted fever," appears between the second and sixth day. The skin is often swollen and bleeding may occur under the skin and mucous membranes. Laboratory tests are important in the diagnosis.

Vaccine Advisable

Forego Fussy Neatness Habit
If Your Husband Resents It

At the bottom of this man's letter was the notation: "Forty-two years married. Same woman, same man."

With that to qualify him, here is his letter:
"Too many domestic rifts are caused by fussy, over-orderly-minded women."

"Man, the ornery cuss, just doesn't like being ALWAYS neat. The peaceful households are those where the wife can put up with a little disorder."

"Also, one of the many reasons that men stay downtown more than they have to is the wife's eternal nagging to get the man to do 'little' repairs."

"Most men after 40 or 45 like to slow down; to rest after being under tension all day. The wife who always has a 'little' job that needs doing just won't let a man rest in his own home."

Well, there you are, wives. That is one man's opinion. And it may be shared by more men than you realize.

PUT UP WITH SOME DISORDER CALMLY
Maybe you'd better learn how to put up with a little disorder calmly.
If that man you married shows any signs of resenting your passion for neatness, after all, you're not running your house primarily for the neighbors' approval.

And maybe, too, if your husband never seems to get home early on his afternoon off, you'd better check to see if you've been making a habit of saving up small jobs for him to do every time he does have a little time at home.

None of this applies to women married to men who are irritated and annoyed by disorder and confusion, nor to those married to men who like to putter around a house fixing things up.

It applies to those women who have a sneaking notion that their husbands would quickly side in with the writer of this letter as to why some men don't hurry home.

The World
Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 2—(AP)—When General Eisenhower stepped from the plane which brought him here yesterday he was smiling and strode around vigorously. He seemed in good health.

The people behind the eyes that examined him closely, at the airport and on TV, must have wondered as I did: "What's he in for and what will it do to him?"

Shortly before Eisenhower landed here, Sen. Taft attacked him. In a major foreign policy speech Taft criticized our air strength and said:
"There has been a steady deterioration in our comparative air power, which began while General Eisenhower was chief of staff."

Newsman who couldn't pin Eisenhower down while he was in uniform will meet him again this week, but this time as a man seeking the presidency. And this time he'll have to give some answers.

And from now on his political opponents of whom he has plenty, will lambsat him for what he says or doesn't say, trying to use every word against him which, of course, he has the privilege of doing to them.

In fact, Taft tried to lay down in his speech yesterday the conditions under which Eisenhower will have to run for the presidency.

Taft said: "In the Republican campaign of 1952 there must be no hesitation about attacking the foreign policy of Mr. Truman and Mr.
Acheson. That policy from 1944 to 1952 has been the most disastrous period in the entire history of American foreign policy."

The general, of course, may disagree with Taft in whole or part and might find it difficult to attack at least one phase of our foreign policy, the European, which he supports and has been carrying out.

His failure to follow the senator's suggestion undoubtedly will bring him criticism from the supporters of Taft who have been free to criticize foreign policy without responsibility for initiating or pursuing it.

Eisenhower might go on the offensive and attack Taft's views on foreign policy, a chore the Democrats will probably undertake if Taft gets the nomination since his views have been so consistently different from theirs.

At any rate, before the Democrats get a chance for a crack at him, some of Eisenhower's own Republicans are trying to nail him which may give him a foretaste of what's in store for him.

Since it's by no means certain he'll get the nomination, much less the presidency, it's possible that just before he opened the plane door yesterday and stepped out into politics,
Eisenhower was thinking:

"I wonder if it's worth it."

Reuss Delves In Grass Roots
For Votes to Beat McCarthy

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Henry Reuss of Milwaukee—candidate for Wisconsin Sen. Joe McCarthy's seat in the November election—was in Washington recently, attending the Americans for Democratic Action meeting.

Reuss is 40, McCarthy is 42, so this political scramble in which there is more national interest than any senatorial contest in the country is strictly a young man's affair.

Reuss is a tall, broad-shouldered, square-jawed, fair-complexioned type of guy. He wears the horn-rimmed glasses typical of the college man which he obviously is—a graduate of Cornell and Harvard law.

In World War II he enlisted as a private and rose to the rank of major, winning the Bronze Star for gallantry at the Rhine crossing.
Later he was in military government in Germany on General Eisenhower's staff.

After the war Reuss served as Milwaukee County's assistant corporation counsel, and ran a grand jury investigation of corruption and graft. He lost an election for State attorney general and then became assistant general counsel for the Marshall Plan in Paris.

He is married to a good-looking gal and they have four fine children. His family is of German origin and well-to-do. Obviously intelligent and clean-cut with a lot of savvy, Reuss' greatest handicap may be that he is too nice a fellow to get mixed up in a political brawl.

HE HAS APPEARED IN ALL
WISCONSIN COUNTIES

In spite of this, Henry Reuss has been campaigning actively for six months, working full time at it. He has already been in every Wisconsin county at least once, most of them more than once.

Where he finds that people never heard of him before, he goes back and concentrates. Speaking fluent German, Reuss is able to talk to some of the older settlers in the rural areas in their native tongue.

This is more or less the type of grass roots campaign that McCarthy waged to beat young Bob LaFollette for senator in 1946. He went all over the state, meeting people and jolling down their names in a book.

Next day he'd send them post cards, telling how nice it had been to meet them and signing it "Joe."

Just before the election, all these people get another post card from Joe, asking them to vote for him.

Reuss says he is devoting less and less time in the campaign to the issue of McCarthyism and he isn't trying to outdo the senator in invective. Instead, Reuss says he is talking a lot about inflation, farm policy, defense, Germany and other foreign issues which McCarthy doesn't bother with.

Also, Reuss says he is pointing out Senator McCarthy's voting record on such issues as the Kerr natural gas bill, the tidelands oil bill, crop storage expansion and soil conservation.

Reuss says that Senator McCarthy hasn't been coming home as much as he used to early in his term. And he hasn't been paying attention to his mail. Those were mistakes that Senator LaFollette made. Reuss also asks pointedly what Senator Mc-Carthy has done for Wisconsin since he came to Washington.

Western Illinois Fair To Sell 105 Grandstand Boxes

Grandstand improvements at the Western Illinois Fair at Griggsville, which opens Tuesday, July 1, with Farm Bureau and Pre-view Day, are rapidly nearing completion. The fair dates for 1952 are July 1-6 inclusive. A completely new box seating area is being added to the front of the grandstand and additional bleacher sections have been built to be erected at each end of the amphitheatre.

The new box seats are constructed on a concrete platform and are marked off with metal rails. The new seating, built on three levels, provides an unobstructed view of the entire track and the various activities that will take place in front of the amphitheatre. There will be 105 boxes which, with the new 64 foot bleacher sections, will increase the seating capacity of the grandstand to 2,700.

The new seating additions are the first major portion of the $20,000 improvement program which was adopted by the Western Illinois Fair Association. The permanent improvement program will extend over a five-year period and will eventually result in one of the best and most up-to-date fairgrounds in the state. The fair, which has operated successfully the past four years, has grown with each year's operation. The fair association's policy has been to turn back profits from the fair to permanent improvements and facilities that will make the grounds of greater service to the fair and to Western Illinois Fairgoers.

Box seats for the entire fair program will be sold in advance of the fair. Plans for selling reservations are being worked out and information concerning sale of the seats will be announced from the fair office prior to their being put on sale.

Mrs. Ludwig Dies Sunday At Son's Residence Here

Mrs. Celia Ludwig, mother of N. man J. Ludwig of 238 Westmiller street, died at 8:40 a. m. Sunday at the home of her son. Mrs. Ludwig, whose family home was in Chicago, came to the city April 6 to visit her son and family. Mrs. Ludwig is the widow of John G. Ludwig who died Jan. 28, 1948.

She was a member of the Mizpah chapter of the Order of Eastern Star in Chicago and was a regular attendant at the meetings of the local chapter while in the city. The remains were taken to the Williamson Funeral Home and on Monday sent to Chicago where services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday with interment to be made in the Rosehill cemetery in Chicago.

Troy Manning Called By Death Sunday Evening

Troy L. Manning, who resided on a farm west of the city, died at 9:55 p. m. Sunday at Passavant hospital. Mr. Manning had been in poor health since February.

He was born June 16, 1886 in Kentucky the son of John and Lou Carpenter Manning. He was married to Marjorie McBride who survives with the following children: Rolfe of Winchester; John and William Manning both of Franklin; Mrs. Bernice Mills of East Moline; Mrs. Lura Prince of Sherman; Albert of Decatur; Mrs. Marjorie Bart of Orleans and Norman Manning at home. Also surviving are 22 grandchildren and one great grandchild. There is one brother, Bert Manning of Salem, Mo.

The body was taken to the Williamson funeral home where services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. Frank Marston officiating. Interment will be made in the Diamond Grove cemetery. The family will meet friends at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p. m. Tuesday.

Bring Remains Of Oklahoma Man To Greene County

White Hall - Charles Jefferson Butler, 75, of Cushing, Okla., died in a hospital in Norman, Okla., Friday morning.

The body was sent to White Hall where it was received Sunday by the Dawdy funeral home.

Mr. Butler was a former resident of White Hall. He was born April 21, 1877. He is survived by his wife, Clara, one brother, Ed, of White Hall, and one sister, Mrs. Lula Prescott, of Galva, Tex.

Services were held at 2 p. m. Monday at the funeral home. Rev. Albert Monroe officiated and burial was made in High Street cemetery.

Sportsmen Enjoy Trip To Canada

Officer Cloyd Wilson of the Jacksonville police department, who spent last week coasting fish to strike in lakes of the Canadian wilderness, was back on the job here Monday. The trip which he took in company with four residents of Louisiana, Mo., was a success, as the sportsmen caught a large number of trout, walleyes and northern pike.

Louisiana men making the trip to Red Deer Lodge, Nestor Falls, Ont., were Russell Armentrout, Hy Angle, Charles McColister and Pete Marshall.

Wilson said the Nestor Falls area experienced a light snowfall May 29, enough that windshield wipers were needed in driving. The party saw a bull moose and other game during their week's stay in Canada.

Henry E. Jolly Dies At Waverly

Waverly—Henry Edgar Jolly, 80, of Waverly, a retired farmer, died at 6:40 p. m. Sunday at his residence. Mr. Jolly was born March 9, 1872, near Franklin, the son of John Wesley and Julia Ann Hamilton Jolly. On Feb. 5, 1902, he married Jennie Timmons.

She survives, together with a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Marshall, of Waverly; five grandchildren; one great-grandchild; a brother, Claude J. Jolly, and two sisters, Mrs. Daisy Jones, of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Mrs. Clara Towell, of Windsor, Mo.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Nece funeral home. Rev. Bronson Smith will officiate.

Burial will be made in Franklin cemetery.

Mayor Hoagland Will Represent City At Hearing

Springfield, Ill., June 2—(P)—An Illinois Legislative Commission exploring municipal revenue problems and ways of solving them will hear tomorrow from 13 cities.

The legislators, headed by Senator Walker Butler (R-Chicago), expect representatives from Alton, Bloomington, Danville, Decatur, East Moline, East St. Louis, Galesburg, Jacksonville, Kankakee, Moline, Mt. Carmel, Ottawa and Springfield.

The public hearing has been set for 10 a. m. (CDT) in the senate chamber. The commission, which has a $50,000 appropriation, will report its recommendations to the 1953 general assembly.

Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland will deliver a statement on behalf of Jacksonville before the commission at 3:45 p. m. (DST) Tuesday in the chamber of the state senate.

The commission held a hearing for Southern Illinois cities at Carbondale last month and about two weeks from now will hold a hearing for Northern Illinois municipalities. The present hearing, to be held Tuesday and Wednesday in Springfield, is for Central Illinois communities.

Cope-Costello Wedding Rites At Greenfield

A colorful event in Greenfield Sunday afternoon at two o'clock was the wedding of Miss Ruby Costello, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Costello, and Carl Cope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cope, of Carlinville.

The wedding took place in the Presbyterian church with the minister, Rev. W. C. Meeker, using the Presbyterian one-reading ceremony. Miss Lois Hall sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony. She was accompanied by Mrs. Nema Burger who also played the wedding march.

Miss Marlene Costello, sister of the bride acted as bride's maid, while Earl Burger was best man. The bride was given away by her father. The bride wore a grey satin gown and the bride's maid a gown of pink and white linen.

The church was filled to capacity with the relatives and friends of the young couple. Dale Hammon acted as usher.

The bride was graduated from the Greenfield High School last week. The groom is engaged in farming with his father. They will make their home on the farm nine miles north of Carlinville.

DR. MECKER VISITS PARENTS IN CITY

Dr. Cornelius Meeker spent last week visiting with his parents Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Meeker, 121 Westminster street. Dr. Meeker is a member of a medical clinic in Butte, Montana, where the Anaconda Copper has just presented the city with a four million dollar hospital.

He attended an area meeting of the Pediatric association in Washington, D. C., and visited a cousin, Ben Meeker in Chicago, who is chief of the federal probation office of the Chicago district, before coming to Jacksonville. He made the entire trip by air.

YOU'LL FIND IT EVEN BETTER THAN YOU'VE HEARD!..

It's been many years since a new car has caused as much talk as today's Chrysler Imperial has. What you may not realize is how long it's been since a car gave as many reasons for excited talk as this one.

May we invite you to drive and test the best and most worth-owning engine on the road today? (Chrysler's magnificent new 180 H.P. FirePower V-8.)

May we invite you to handle the easiest and safest steering wheel in existence at the moment? (Chrysler's full-time Power Steering.)

May we invite you to try out brakes which require as little as one-third the usual foot-pressure, and still stop you in many feet less than other cars do? (Chrysler Power Brakes.)

May we invite you to sit on the most comfortable seat cushions, and enjoy the fullest window vision you can find? May we invite you to ride on the rough-road miracle of the Oriflow shock absorbers which only Chrysler-built cars have?

May we invite you to drive a Chrysler Imperial... and learn how much you'd miss, and deeply regret, if you bought another car today without knowing this one first?

We... and Imperial by Chrysler... are at your service, any time.

Alias Basil Willing

XXXI

THE dim electric lamp was still burning at the cobbler's and there were lights in the other small shops as well. A man does not hoard his working hours when he is working for himself. Along the street, motley with patches of light and shadow, the door of number 104 was a sombre gap, dark, empty, withdrawn from all the rest. No passer-by was likely to see Basil and Lloyd as they slipped into the deserted house.

Basil Willing closed the door before he took a flashlight from his pocket. Frank Lloyd looked up at the nightmare staircase and shuddered.

"Has Perdita been here?"

"Probably not."

As they mounted, the stair creaked and something scuttled through the flashlight beam—the flat, gray, greedy looking body of a rat. When they came to the door of 4-C, Basil put the flashlight back in his pocket.

"No lights from now on. Not even a match."

At the window he paused.

Through the bars of the fire-escape, they looked across fences and yards to the rear windows of houses in the next street. Basil remembered another time when such a view had seemed unreal—lighted squares cut in houses of black paper.

"Not a bad observation post," he remarked. "An empty house, where you could come and go at all hours unnoticed, and the fire-escape to mask your face at the window. But we must be careful. The last man who used it is dead."

"Jack Duggan?"

"Yes."

"How do you know?"

"We found some notes in his apartment—a cryptic reference to 'W. S.' Then with the help of Miss Dean I found a scrap of paper that Miss Shaw had hidden in a book."

It was a receipt for $30 made out to Duggan for the use of some article from March 26 to April 26. The article was indicated simply as '4C104WS.' At first I thought of a code or serial number. Then it occurred to me that this was not code, but simply abbreviation, for other abbreviations in the receipt were as that might run together letters and numbers that should be separated. I tried separating the letters and that gave me 4-C 104 W S—obviously an apartment address. And a street map of Manhattan gave me Warwick Street for W. S."

"BUT why did Miss Shaw keep the receipt? And why did Duggan give it to her?"

"Ever hear of a drawing account?"

"Something like a reporter's expense account?"

"No, just the opposite. Reporters finance their operations and then turn in a bill. Duggan drew a sum of money monthly to finance operations and then turned in receipts to show how much he had spent. Anything left over and above expenses would be deducted from his fee. It's a common device of men without capital—salesmen, engineers or private detectives—running a small, independent business. That's why Duggan insisted on this receipt. The landlord wouldn't want to give one. Renting out a room in a building condemned by the Board of Health is illegal. That's why the address was abbreviated and the rent was $30. This room is worth about $15."

"But Miss Shaw couldn't read the receipt."

"Someone could read it to her at the end of the case. Meanwhile, she was businesslike enough to ask for receipts as they came in. Basil looked at the numerals on his wrist watch, radiant in the dark. "Let's see just how steady this fire-escape is."

HE raised the window and threw a leg over the sill. The iron platform seemed firm enough under one foot. The other foot followed. He ducked his head outside and stood upright. "Better hurry."

Lloyd followed and started down the ladder. Basil paused. "An open window in a supposedly deserted house might catch the eye of someone across the way." He shut it quietly and they went down together.

There was a yard at the foot of the fire escape. A few plantains and clumps of poverty-grass had found root in the lumpy, hard-packed earth. A broken clothes-line dangled from a length of pipe sunk in the ground. They crossed a clutter of dirty rags, tin cans and burned matches to a board fence that rose above eye level on three sides.

The boards were as rotten and shaky as the house itself. Basil loosened two and looked through the gap at the leaves of a privet hedge—thick, neatly trimmed, high as the fence itself.

"This is made for us," he whispered. "We can walk between the hedge and the fence without being seen on either side."

They walked between the hedge and fence. Their direction was parallel to Warwick Street, diagonal to the street beyond the houses on the other side of the hedge. Basil Willing seemed to know exactly where he was going, for he walked briskly toward a corner in their improvised lane.

But, at the first corner, the board fence met an iron railing at right angles. Lloyd halted. "We've lost our cover."

"We still have the hedge. The other side doesn't matter."

Memory Stunts
Of Bown Amuse
Ship Passengers

Passengers on the Queen Mary a few weeks ago glanced at "Today's Programme" in the cabaret and saw that the headline attraction was "Mr. Elzie R. Bown, The Memory Wizard."

Mr. Bown obtained his passport papers through the Morgan county circuit clerk's office early last spring, in preparation for a theatrical tour of England. While crossing the Atlantic he joined with other acts in presenting regular attractions for the several thousand passengers.

Bown, a former Morgan county man, whose feats of memory have mystified audiences for more than 25 years, is making a six weeks tour of English theaters. He was accompanied on the trip by Charles Adams and George Megginson of Jacksonville.

The memory wizard first attracted nationwide attention when he was featured in Robert Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" cartoon. He has played clubs, schools, and theaters in most states of the union. His selections for top billing on the Queen Mary program was another chapter in his brilliant career.

Eighty Graduates Hear T. V. Smith Call For Middle Sized Heroism

Addressing 80 graduates and several hundred visitors at MacMurray College's commencement late Sunday afternoon, Dr. T. V. Smith, professor of philosophy at Syracuse University, called upon the young people of today "to face the realities of life as they are, to make decisions based upon existing alternatives, and to invest in your choices all of the abilities and idealisms which you possess." He spoke in ceremonies held in Annie Merner chapel.

Dr. Smith said "most of us will not be called upon to practice full scale heroism of the type now being shown in Korea. Most of us will be called upon only to practice a 'middle-sized heroism.' We shall have to make choices from alternatives, none of which are to our complete liking, to make of them the best we know how, and not to lose our sense of balance should we fail to achieve all that we had hoped."

The commencement ceremonies were the last presided over by President Clarence P. McClelland after 27 years as head of the institution. Dr. McClelland, in a short report asked the alumnae and friends of the college "to give my successor, Dr. Louis P. Norris, the same kind of loyal support which sustained me for so many years."

Dr. McClelland said "I have had a wonderful time here. My only regret is I was unable to do everything I had hoped and planned to do. I look forward to my life ahead with happiness and hope. My love for this college will remain with me always and I want to thank all of you for your cooperation with me for these many years."

President Emeritus
Mrs. James E. MacMurray, president of the board of trustees, delivered a short tribute to Dr. McClelland's "long and outstanding career as the head of our college." She said "we are all of us proud of your great record and we thank you for the part of your life which you have given to us. Our warmest good wishes go with you."

Mrs. MacMurray announced that Dr. McClelland's title now will be President Emeritus.

Mrs. McClelland, wife of the president, was honored "for her long and gracious service as the hostess of the college and as her husband's helpmate" with the honorary degree of Doctor of Human Letters. She was presented by Mrs. MacMurray and received the diploma from her husband.

Others who received honorary degrees were Mrs. Irma L. Gamble, member of the board of trustees and active in civic affairs in Peoria, who was accorded the degree of Doctor of Laws; and Dr. Merrill J. Holmes, president of Illinois Wesleyan University, who also was granted a Doctor of Laws degree.

Wit And Wisdom
Dr. Smith's speech was characterized by a combination of wit and wisdom which has become familiar to residents of Jacksonville, where he has appeared on a number of occasions. For 25 years before taking his present position in the Maxwell graduate school at Syracuse University the speaker was professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago. He is the author of many books and articles on philosophical subjects, particularly those relating to American democratic thought. In addition, he served two terms in the Illinois state senate and one term as congressman-at-large from this state.

In illustrating the theme of his speech, Dr. Smith quoted the remark of an automobile mechanic in New Orleans. The mechanic told him, "he who works with his hands is a laborer; he who works with his hands and his mind is a craftsman; and he who works with his hands, mind and heart is an artist." Smith added that this could be taken as the basis theme of his speech.

Dr. Gerald O. McCulloh, professor of theology at Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, delivered the baccalaureate sermon in Annie Merner chapel Sunday morning. His subject was "Spiritual Living in a Secular World."

Dr. McCulloh deplored the present tendency of American society to "set too much store by material possessions and physical capabilities." He continued that "nations which have forgotten basic moral principles have rotted at the core and disappeared from the stage of history. We cannot leave God out of the picture and hope to survive. Man does not live by bread alone."

Need for Spiritual Food
Religion, Dr. McCulloh asserted, "gives to men their spiritual food. It preserves the great spiritual truths learned in past ages, sorts out that which is good in both past and present, and gives to men something higher than themselves to worship."

He added that "man always must worship something. But as we know so well, to worship material possessions or to worship the state, as Germans and Italians did to their sorrow, brings only an impoverishment of spirit. The worship of God alone brings an uplift to the spirit, enhancing and enriching man's experience."

The Graduates
Graduates receiving degrees are as follows:

Bachelor of Arts:
Mary Jeanne Armstrong, Louise Adams Bachman, Mary Lee Blumer, Dorothy Joan Boise, Suzanne Bolle, Betty Breyding, Alice Jane Brown, Nancy Jean Carver, Priscilla Chen-hsing Chang, Efa Faye Clardy, Helen Grace Colberg, Julia

Air Reserves To Banquet And Hear Speakers

Air reservists and their wives from 44 Illinois counties will hear their state's flying congressman, Peter F. Mack, Jr., and Brig. Gen. Robert L. Copsey, special assistant to the chief of staff for reserve forces, at the annual banquet of the 9142nd Volunteer Air Reserve Training Group in Springfield on June 14. Some 350 persons are expected for the Saturday night dinner at 7:30 in the Elks Club ballroom.

Congressman Mack will tell about his recent solo flight around the world. On his Abraham Lincoln Good Will tour he flew a Beech-Bonanza plane approximately 33,000 miles to 48 states in 36 countries, territories and possessions between October 7, 1951 and January 27, 1952. It was the same plane in which Bill Odom set the world's light plane non-stop distance record in 1949. The 21st district representative, a former navy flier, is from Carlinville.

The other speaker of the evening, General Copsey, has been on active duty since August, 1950, and in civilian life was Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics in New Jersey. The 9142nd Volunteer Air Reserve Training Group, headquartered in Springfield, is a civilian component of the Tenth Air Force, commanded by Major John B. Linebaugh of Jacksonville. It is composed of reservists from 44 counties in Illinois, seven in Missouri and one in Iowa.

They include: Hq. 9641 VART Squadron, Decatur, with flights at Bloomington and Mattoon; Hq. 9642nd Squadron, Peoria, flights at Galesburg and Ottawa; Hq. 9643rd Squadron, Springfield, flights at Taylorville and Jacksonville; Hq. 9650th Squadron, Champaign, flights at Danville, Paris and Robinson; Hq. 9651st Squadron, Quincy, flights at Macomb, Illinois and Keokuk, Ia.

eral leadership of W. L. Beale, Jr., chief of the Washington bureau and veteran of eight national conventions.

The bylines of Jack Bell, Don Whitehead and Reiman Morin will be prominent in the convention news report. These three roving political reporters have written top stories of the state primary campaigns and covered politics from coast to coast. They will be in the thick of pre-convention activity up until the minute the first gavel calls the Republican convention to order on Monday, July 7.

Boyle Will Be There

Hal Boyle, roving columnist, will be on hand. So will Jim Marlow whose column "The Nation Today" will be devoted to explaining and backgrounding significant developments.

The staff will include other specialists in various phases of the national political scene—defense, international affairs, organized labor, the farmer, developments of special interest to women.

A special staff of regional reporters will concentrate on developing state delegation news for the readers back home. They are selected with an eye on the key candidates and the salient areas of delegate strength which may call the turn in naming the party nominee for the next occupant of the White House.

To report the convention story with maximum speed and efficiency, the Associated Press will extend its nationwide teletype circuits and wirephoto network directly into the convention hall—this year the International Amphitheater. Teletype wires will lead directly to the convention platform, to an AP workroom in the amphitheater and to another special AP workroom in the headquarters hotel of the national political committees, the Conrad-Hilton.

Staff photographers will cover all scenes of convention activity. A complete base for wirephoto operations will be set up in the amphitheater within 50 feet of the convention assembly hall. It will be fully equipped for fast processing and distribution of picture copy to newspapers throughout the country. General newspaper Editor F. A. Resch will be in charge on the spot.

LT. COL. ROBERT E. KEY

Boston, Mass.—Spiritual understanding alone can pierce today's confusion and lead mankind to lasting safety and security, The Christian Science Board of Directors said Monday.

About 7,500 Christian Scientists from throughout the world heard the directors' special message at the annual meeting of the Mother church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

The directors said that human ingenuity alone will never solve mankind's deepest problems. But they added that the means for right adjustment are spiritual and are immediately available.

"Not numbers nor human might but Truth—spiritual understanding—is the power that will mold the world's destiny," they declared.

Named President of The Mother church for the coming year was Lt. Col. Robert Ellis Key of London, England, Associate Editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals. He has been active in the religion for more than 40 years, including service as practitioner, lecturer and authorized teacher.

WHEAT PRICES DROP ON BOARD OF TRADE

BY WILLIAM FERRIS

Chicago, June 2.—(P)—Prospects that harvesting operations will expand rapidly over the next few weeks, plus receipt of substantial moisture in Canada, brought selling into wheat on the Board of Trade today.

The market started lower and never rallied back to the previous close. Losses ran to more than 2 cents at times and the July contract sank to the lowest point since trading in it started many months ago. The other contracts held slightly above previous lows.

Most other grains eased off in sympathy with the drop in wheat. Soybeans, however, held up quite well, responding to a firmer tone in the bean oil market.

Preliminary estimated receipts of grain in carlots: wheat 61, corn 330, oats 63, rye 20, barley 53 and soybeans 92.

In the closing minutes September wheat also made a new seasonal low. Wheat closed 1-24 lower, July $2.234-4, corn 1 to 14 lower, July $1.824-4, oats 1 to 1 cent lower, July 761-4, rye 11-24 lower, July $2.001-2, soybeans 1 to 2 cents lower, July $13.03-091 and lard 10 to 22 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.45.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, June 2.—(P)—Continued heavy demand from outside order buyers helped clear the biggest supply of hogs in five weeks today. Prices ranged from mostly steady on sows to mostly 25 cents lower on butcher weights.

Cattle were steady to 50 cents lower with heavier steers suffering the decline. Sheep were steady to 50 cents higher. Lambs took the increases, with shorn kinds reaching the highest price since January.

Good to prime fed steers sold from $30.00 to $37.00 and choice to prime heifers from $33.00 to $36.50. Cows topped at $26.00, bulls at $28.25, and weaners at $38.00.

Shorn lambs testing prime touched $29.75, most good and choice offerings making $28.00 to $29.25. Springers topped at $31.50 and ewes at $13.00.

Other receipts included an estimated 14,000 cattle, 500 calves, and 1,000 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, June 2.—(P)—The stock market turned mixed and quiet today as a steel strike followed rapidly on the heels of the supreme court decision declaring government seizure of the steel mills illegal.

Immediately after the court decision there was a quickening of activity in the market and steel stocks moved ahead.

But many issues were backing away from their highs of the day and activity was slowing even before the CIO Steelworkers started leaving the mills.

The volume ran around 1,200,000 shares, a bit better than the even million shares at the previous full session last Thursday.

Prices were a fairly even mixture of gains and losses and most changes were fractions.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic each dropped a fraction after going ahead fractions on the heels of the court decision.

The railroad group, which was strong throughout the morning, slipped into the losing column.

New York Central slipped a bit. Advances included Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, Kennecott and American Can.

Among the declines were Studebaker, Goodrich, Zenith, Westinghouse, American Woolen, Standard Oil (NJ) and Philip Morris.

U. S. government bonds were steady.

Harley Wilson Of Chapin Dies Sunday Morning

Harley Wilson died at his home in the Chapin community at 6:55 a. m. Sunday after an extended illness. Mr. Wilson was a retired farmer.

He was born March 29, 1873 in Lebanon, Iowa, the son of Josiah and Elizabeth Wilson and came to the Chapin vicinity in 1885. The following year he was united in marriage with Miss Mary E. Johnson who survives with one daughter, Mrs. Everett Morris of Merritt and a son, Harry Wilson of Moline. There are seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Frank Morse of Aurora and a brother, Nathan Wilson of Lander, Wyoming. Three sons and one daughter preceded their father in death.

The remains were taken to the Coffey and Son Memorial home where services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. Fred Wilson of the Chapin Christian church in charge. Interment will be made in the Chapin cemetery.

Cars Damaged In Triple Collision

Three automobiles were damaged to such extent that three tow cars were necessary, in a collision at 10:40 o'clock Sunday night at College avenue and South Main street. Drivers and passengers in the cars escaped injury, according to Capt. Spreen and Patrolman Stafford, who went to the intersection and restored traffic to normal.

The wreck occurred when a 1952 Mercury sedan driven by Rolis Manning of Winchester route 3 and a 1949 Chrysler driven by Warren Gustafson of Escanaba, Mich., collided. The impact of this crash threw the Manning car into a 1940 Ford driven by James A. Stulley of Time-well, Ill., according to a report compiled by officers.

Miss Frohwitter Weds William T. Jackson

Miss Mildred Lee Frohwitter, formerly of Bluffs, became the bride of William T. Jackson in a single ring ceremony performed Sunday afternoon in the First Christian church at Springfield, Rev. Harry M. Davis, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Frohwitter of Baylis and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Sadie Jackson of Godfrey, Ill.

The altar was decorated in white snapdragons and ferns.

A short organ prelude was played by Mrs. Linnie Wolaver who also accompanied Jack Duffy who sang "Because" and "A Wedding Prayer" and at the conclusion of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Dorothy Merris of this city, niece of the bride, was her only attendant. Edward Ransford of Springfield attended the bridegroom.

Ushers were Charles Harnden of Springfield and Robert Merris, of this city, nephew of the bride.

Bride in White, Attendant in Pink

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white embroidered organza over matching taffeta, worn over a crinoline skirt. The bodice featured cap sleeves and a Peter Pan collar. She wore a large organza picture hat trimmed with seed pearls and nylon net ruching and white organza streamers. The brides bouquet was a nosegay arrangement of white roses centered with an orchid.

Her attendant's gown was styled identically and was worn over a pastel pink taffeta slip, carrying out the pink color arrangement in the picture hat and nosegay of pink roses. Both wore linen pumps, the bride, white and Miss Merris, pink also dainty mitts, wrist length of nylon net trimmed in ruching and velvet bows in the same color arrangement.

A reception was held at the lake-side home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fitzgerald where an all white three tiered cake was served with punch by friends of the bride. The serving table was centered with pink and white carnations.

When the newlyweds left for a trip to Wisconsin the bride was wearing a navy blue shantung suit with navy and white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will reside at 731 South Grand Avenue, west, Springfield.

Mrs. Jackson is employed in the office of A. M. Fitzgerald, Springfield attorney. Mr. Jackson, a graduate of Shurtleff College is coach at the Rochester high school.

Present for the ceremony were the bride's parents from Baylis, Mrs. Frohwitter wearing navy with matching accessories and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Jackson from Godfrey who wore a beige suit and brown accessories. Both mothers wore carnation corsages. Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Merris and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frohwitter, Mrs. Laura Frohwitter, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brockhouse and family all of Bluffs; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Merris of Jacksonville and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Moore and Ronald of Winchester.

Television Football Fans Are Guaranteed Game Every Saturday

New York, June 2—(AP)—Television football fans throughout the nation will be guaranteed one game every Saturday during the 1952 season, but no college team will be permitted more than one appearance on the screens under the control plan proposed by the National Collegiate A. A. television committee.

This plan, supplanting last year's system of varied controls and "blackouts," was made public today as it was sent to the NCAA membership for approval. A two-thirds majority in a mail vote, which must be completed by June 8, is required to put the plan into effect.

At the same time the committee, headed by Robert A. Hall of Yale, revealed it is planning to present a program next winter which will impose further limitations on television appearances and probably will call for a division of the football television receipts among the football-playing member colleges of the NCAA. These proposals will be offered at the NCAA convention in Washington next January.

Limited Appearances

The basic principles of the 12-point program for 1952 are limiting each college to a single appearance; elimination of the 1951 "blackouts"; and a guarantee by the sponsor of national football coverage of some sort on 12 dates—Saturdays from Sept. 20 to Nov. 29, inclusive, and Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 27—and wide geographical distribution of the games to be televised and an effort to include as many small college games as possible on a local basis.

The sponsor or network which buys this "package" will select the

5 Local Golfers Among 7,000 Who Beat Hogan

New York, June 2—(AP)—Who said Ben Hogan can't be beaten? More than 7,000 golfers, most of them just duffers or week-end golfers, can say today, "I did."

Five Jacksonville golfers turned the trick. J. H. Stark, Harry Crabtree, H. W. Keedy, R. C. Barber, and J. Alden Ryan, used their handicaps to whip Hogan on the Country Club greens.

Nearly all of them, however, did it with handicaps but there were a few that topped Hogan's score without a handicap. Last Saturday the National Open champion turned in a par 71 at the Northwest Country club course in Dallas, where he'll defend his title starting June 12.

A total of 7,511 of the 55,105, reporting in the "Beat Ben Hogan" national golf day Saturday, turned in better cards than the Mighty Mite from Texas.

All who participated paid an entry fee of $1 in the event sponsored by the Professional Golfers Association and Life magazine with all proceeds going to the National Golf and U.S.O. funds.

John Haine, 79-year-old Tres Pinos, Calif., player, had the lowest. He shot a 74 and with a handicap of 14 turned in a 60. Eight-year-old Diane Wilmar of Kansas City had a 117-46-69.

General Omar Bradley, head of the joint chiefs of staff, scored an 83, which was reduced to 74 by his handicap of 11. Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) had a 94-16-78.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS

We've had just one night of soft-ball action in the man's leagues at Nichols Park and already the dopesters are revamping their tip sheets. The Murrayville kids made no bones about it last night. They intend to carry the A league championship trophy back to southern Morgan county at the end of three rounds. The youngsters didn't doubt for a minute that they could beat the highly touted Elevator club when we talked with them before the game. Once the contest was underway, it became apparent that they were serious contenders and not just talking through their long billed ball caps.

Bobby Garner seems to be one of the top pitchers in the league—at first glance of course. But one night doesn't make a season, nor one win a championship.

A quick look at Wednesday night's card shows Greenfield meeting One Day Cleaners of Springfield in the feature contest. A junior game has been booked for the curtain-raiser. Stewart Drive in tangles with Manchester at 7 p.m.

Paul Blakeman, recently discharged from the Marine Corps, took in the ball games last night. He's a former Murrayville boy, we remember. Paul is going to the University of Illinois, summer school and probably won't be around for much mound duty.

Glen Williams has finally picked up his sixth team for the American Legion baseball league. A complete season's schedule will soon appear in this paper.

Hear tell that the big car races may not return to Jacksonville on July 6th after all. It's unofficial, but reports have it that Sweeney won't bring his boys to town unless calcium can be put on the track. Of course the chemical can't be used so soon before the horses race here at the county fair—impassable.

Jack Burrus, Arenzville softball manager, will be ready for action. Arenzville opens its schedule Thursday night against Mercedosa. The team will play at home on Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday night. Burrus would like to schedule local teams on a home and home basis.

This column should speak out with more authority on all things athletic now that there's a coach in the family. Aunt Mildred Froh-witter married Bill Jackson, present Rochester coach and former mentor at Carrollton high school, in Springfield Sunday afternoon. We now have a technical adviser.

Eddie Sommers, who tutored Routt athletes last year, will be wed in Springfield this Saturday morning. He's marrying a cute little brunette, name of Wanda Geitz, whose father is a prominent Springfield businessman. That'll make two weddings in one week for this corner—the first we've attended since our own.

Bill Gross, who received such a substantial pay boost at Mt. Zion that he wouldn't even consider moving to another school next fall, would like to book a couple of Jacksonville prep teams in basketball next winter. Bill, who visited here last week, says he'll bring his ball club to town on a weekend and play consecutive nights if arrangements can be made.

Don Lenhardt's Grand-Slam Homer Wins 6-2 For Sox

Boston, June 2—(AP)—Don Lenhardt's grand-slam 10th inning homer aggravated the already heavy woes of ex-teammate Ken Holcombe today as the Boston Red Sox gained the rubber of the three-game series with Chicago's cooling-off White Sox, 6-2.

Charged with four previous pitching setbacks, the luckless Holcombe seemed to have his first 1952 win in his grasp after Nelly Fox singled in Chicago Carrasquel to give the White Sox a 2-1 lead in the top of the 10th.

But then Holcombe dug his own grave by hitting Fred Hatfield with a pitched ball when that rookie led off in the bottom of the extra frame. Del Wilber followed with a single to left and, with one out, Dom DiMaggio put the Red Sox into a 2-2 tie by scoring Hatfield with a single to center. The blow enabled Maury McDermott, running for Wilber, to reach third base.

Holcombe then was ordered to pass Billy Goodman and Lenhardt, followed by hitting the first pitch over the left field net to account for four runs with his seventh homer of the season.

Cardinals End Maglie's Streak With 5-4 Victory

St. Louis, June 2—(AP)—Sal Maglie's nine-game winning streak was ended here tonight as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Giants, 5-4, to sweep the three-game series. Maglie was trailing when he was taken out of the game for a pinch batter in the seventh inning after giving up eight hits and four earned runs.

The triumph boosted the Redbirds into the National League's fourth spot over the Cincinnati Reds.

Three of the Giants' four runs came on homers by Davey Williams, Whitey Lockman and Bob Thomson. The Giants were leading 3-0 when the Cards tallied twice in the third inning, the second run scoring on Al Dark's wild throw to first base. Thomson's homer in the sixth put Maglie two runs up.

St. Louis put together three hits and a hit batsman to go ahead in their sixth with three runs. Dick Sisler singled with one out and Maglie got himself into real trouble by hitting Billy Johnson with a pitch. Then pinch hitter Peanut Lowrey doubled and Solmie Hemus singled for a three-run inning.

Maglie started his winning streak last Sept. 16 and finished the season with three straight victories. Thus he had a 12-game streak before he was stopped tonight.

Joe Presko, who took over for starter Harry Brecheen in the fourth, gained the triumph—his second against three losses.

Senators Move Nearer AL Lead With 5-2 Victory

Washington, June 2—(AP)—Third place Washington moved within a game of the American League lead tonight, defeating Detroit, 5-2, as crafty Connie Marrero won his fifth decision.

Marrero, stubby Cuban right-hander, scattered nine hits to post his fifth against one defeat as the Senators dealt Art Houtteman a seventh loss.

Illinois Meets Western Michigan For District Title

Champaign, Ill., June 2—(AP)—Illinois, Big Ten co-champion, and Western Michigan, mid-America pennant winner, will open a best-of-three series at Champaign Wednesday for the NCAA district No. 4 baseball title.

Illinois qualified for the playoff finals Saturday by downing Ohio University 3-2 after losing the opener of the doubleheader 13-7. Illinois won Friday's series opener 5-4.

Ron Heberer's pinch double in the ninth drove in the tying two runs for Illinois in Saturday's decisive nightcap. Then Clive Fellmer, the winning pitcher, singled home the clincher.

Murrayville Nine Blanks Lewis Elevator 6-0 In Softball League Opener

Games Tonight
Lanes Book Store vs. Gene's Sporting Goods (6 p.m.)
Stewart Drive In vs. Semoore (7:15 p.m.)
State Hospital vs. House of Clay (8:30 p.m.)

A hustling, young Murrayville nine blanked Lewis Elevator 6-0 in the opening A league softball game of the season at Nichols Park last night. Bob Garner, 18-year-old pitcher, allowed the Elevators just two hits.

Willie Schofield started on the mound for Lewis Elevator and the hard-hitting Murrayville youths picked on him for two runs in the first, then four in the third before Jack McNeely could be rushed in from the bull pen. McNeely managed to blank Murrayville the rest of the game, but the damage had been done and Verby Spencer's young ball club chalked up the first A league victory of the year.

Fightin' Illini Have Monopoly On Big Ten

Champaign, Ill., June 2—(AP)—Big Ten rivals are beginning to chant "Break Up Illinois."

The Fightin' Illini last weekend captured the conference outdoor track crown to climax a near titular monopoly in the 1951-52 athletic year.

Of the 12 sports officially listed by the conference, Illinois won eight, including an unprecedented sweep of the football, basketball, indoor and outdoor track and baseball championships.

The Illini also took the conference wrestling, gymnastics and fencing titles. For an extra touch, they copped the bubble in bowling, not a regular conference sport.

The only titles to elude Illinois were in swimming, won by Ohio State; cross-country, taken by Michigan State; golf, which went to Michigan; and tennis, won by Indiana for the first time.

The piece de resistance, of course, was the football crown won by the Ray Eliot-coached Illini who went on to smother Stanford, 40-7, for the school's second Rose Bowl triumph in five years.

In basketball, Harry Combes' quintet corralled the title with a 12-2 record, won second rating behind Kentucky in the national AP poll, and finished third in the NCAA finals.

Leo Ellbracht, youngest baseball coach in the Big Ten at 29, made his debut as successor to the late Wally Roettger a triumphant one by sharing the diamond crown with Michigan. The Illini baseballers Wednesday start a playoff with Western Michigan for a berth in the NCAA tourney at Omaha, June 12-16.

Leo Johnson's 15th season as Illinois track coach resulted in a conference indoor triumph March 8 and his outdoor conquest at Ann Arbor, Mich., last Saturday. In both instances, the Illini edged out Michigan to repeat an indoor-outdoor sweep scored last year.

The Illini also outlasted Michigan for the wrestling title this year, as Coach Buel Patterson's team placed first with 28 points and the Wolverines were second with 21.

Illinois' triumphant gymnastic squad is coached by Charles Pond, a product of Hardin-Simmons, and the championship fencing team by Maxwell Garret of CUNY.

Athletic Director Doug Mills explains the Illini domination thusly: "The way we look at it, we don't have any minor sports; they're all major sports to us."

Rival coaches are fully agreed.

Yankee Offered 'Training Camp' For Re-Match

New York, June 2—(AP)—Billy Martin, second baseman of the New York Yankees, today was offered a "training camp" site for a possible "re-match" with infielder Jim Piersall of the Boston Red Sox.

The pair promised to swap punches again, following their no-decision bout in Fenway Park, Boston, last month.

Before today's game with the Cleveland Indians, Martin showed his teammates a wire from Swan Lake, N. Y., which read: "We offer Stevensville Lake hotel as training site for your re-match with Jim Piersall. Promise to help you make his weight."

Martin weighs about 20 pounds less than his adversary and Manager Casey Stengel has advised him to pick up some pounds before fighting again.

Cubs Whip Bums 6-1; Hank Sauer Socks 11th Homer

Chicago, June 2—(AP)—Backed by three homers, including league-leading Hank Sauer's 11th of the year, 34-year-old Willard Ramsdell knuckled a brilliant relief job to give the Chicago Cubs a 6-1 win over the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers today.

Ramsdell, notching his first victory of the season took over for wild-starting Bob Kelly in the first inning and blanked Brooklyn the rest of the way on six hits to snap a four-game Dodger win string.

Dodger second baseman Jackie Robinson was tossed out of the game by umpire Larry Goetz in the eighth inning for protesting a third strike. Ramsdell's eighth and last strikeout of the game.

Garver Drops 2-1 Decision To Athletics

Philadelphia, June 2—(AP)—Ned Garver and Satchel Paige gave the Philadelphia Athletics only five hits tonight but two of those safeties were homers by Eddie Joost and Gus Zernial—enough for a 2 to 1 win over the St. Louis Browns.

Both homers came off the offerings of Garver, who had a lifetime record of 11 victories and two losses against the A's before he was charged with tonight's defeat.

Joost lined a ball into the upper leftfield stands in the third inning with no one on—his fifth round tripper of the season.

Zernial's homer, also with no one on base, cleared the roof of the leftfield stands. It was the big outfielder's seventh of the year and came on the first pitch of the fourth inning.

Fans See No-Hitter At Nichols Opener; Local Nines Drop Two

Jacksonville softball teams took it on the chin twice Sunday night as Nichols Park observed its grand opening for the season.

Hoke Wilson pitched no-hit softball at State Farm of Bloomington pasted Lewis Elevator 10-0 in the first game. Wilson whiffed 18 local batters. Al Angelo and Lefty Allen were the only Elevators who hit the ball.

The Northside Boosters of Alton tripped State Hospital 9-5 in the nightcap. This game was featured by long home runs by both sides. Jim Clinton, State Hospital shortstop, hammered out a two-run homer in the third inning for the locals.

Alton pitcher Calvin and second baseman Whitner socked out four-masters in the second and third innings.

A crowd of about 250 fans saw the opening games. League play starts Monday.

Don Gehrmann Wins Two Races On London Cinders

London, June 2—(AP)—Don Gehrmann, who decided over the weekend that the Olympic 1,500 meters was out of his reach, captured two shorter races before 35,000 track and field enthusiasts at White City Stadium today.

The Milwaukee public relations consultant and father of two children burst forth from the start in the 1,000 yards and 440 yards events and held off challenges to take two gold medals at the British Games sponsored by the Sunday newspaper, News of the World.

His times were not astonishing, but he had to run under frightful weather conditions—severe even for London. He fought off a courageous home stretch drive by Britain's crack miler, Bill Nankeville, to win the 1,000 by one yard in 2:11 flat. Nankeville's 2:11 was good enough to better the recognized British 1,000 yard record of 2:11.2. The track already was heavy with rain.

After Ollie Sax of Kearny, N.J., felt he wasn't ready yet to risk his bad leg in the quarter mile international invitation, Gehrmann offered to compete in his behalf. This gesture was highly appreciated by the big crowd who had waited through off-and-on downpours and a battering hailstorm for the final event of the two-day program.

Gehrmann broke out in front again and held the lead all the way except for a brief moment when Britain's T. L. Higgins challenged on the back stretch. However, Gehrmann surged back in front and came home a yard ahead in 49.2. It was the first 440 Don had ever run in competition, although he has been clocked in 48.0 in relay legs.

YOUNG LADY IN A HURRY Lawrenceville, Ill.—(UP)—An 85-year-old woman asked Lawrence County Clerk Bill Hensley for an absentee ballot. He suggested that she cast her vote then and get it over with. But she replied, "I haven't got time—must get back to my job." "Your job," said the clerk, glancing again at the 85 years she listed. "Oh, I'm taking care of an old lady," she said, and hustled out.

Winchester Voters To Choose Mayor, 1 Alderman Today

Winchester — The residents of Winchester will go to the polls Tuesday, today, at a special election to elect a mayor and alderman in the third ward.

The mayor will be elected to fill the unexpired term of James W. Bailey, who resigned a few months ago. Horace M. Wainwright is candidate for mayor on the Progressive party ticket and Alva Baird is candidate on the People's party ticket.

There has been considerable interest in the election and a large vote is expected.

An alderman will be elected in the third ward to fill the unexpired term of George Patrick, who resigned several months ago to accept a position as superintendent of the water system. Edward Graham is candidate on the Progressive ticket and Wesley Hamilton is candidate on the People's ticket.

The polls will open at 6 a.m. and will close at 5 p.m.

Polling places will be as follows: 1st ward, the southeast corner of the courthouse; 2nd ward, the building occupied by the Highway cafe; 3rd ward, City Hall.

Water Revenue Bonds Marketed To Company In Chicago By Council

The Jacksonville City Council voted last night to accept the bid of George H. Willis and company, Chicago, for 46 water and sewerage revenue bonds which had been authorized a year ago in the city's expansion of its water and sewage system but which had never been marketed.

The total value of the bonds is $46,000.

The council also accepted a bid from the same company for 11 bonds, worth $11,000, which the city contemplates issuing to complete the financing of the expansion project.

On May 28, 1951, the council voted to issue 160 bonds at a total value of $160,000. Of that issue, 114 bonds, worth $114,000 each, were sold to three St. Louis companies. The companies were given an option on the purchase of the remaining 46 bonds when the city should issue them.

However, this spring when the city was ready to sell the securities the companies were not interested in purchasing them at a figure approximating last year's purchase price and they released the municipality from any obligation in the matter.

Bid Slightly Higher

Willis and company, according to special counsel Orville Foreman, submitted a bid slightly higher than the amount the original issue was sold for. The contemplated $11,000 issue was marketed at an equally attractive figure to the city, Foreman told the councilmen.

The bonds will mature from 1971 to 1975. Like those before them they were issued to finance the expansion of the city's sewerage and water facilities in order to accommodate the new Mrs. Tucker's plant being built east of Jacksonville.

In a second matter of business, Alderman Allen Kelly announced that a filter attachment had been placed on the local police radio transmitter to eliminate interference with local television sets. The city authorities had been receiving complaints from TV owners that the police radio, whenever it came on, blanked out or seriously interfered with program reception. The cost of the attachment was $5. "It solves the problem completely," he said.

Verdict Delayed

In a third matter, the aldermen decided to lay aside for future action a resolution granting a permit to Nesco for the installation of a parking lot near its plant along the G.M. & O. railroad tracks in the southeastern section of the city.

Alderman Chumley apparently voiced the consensus of the council when he said he "did not feel free to vote for the measure unless a covenant binding the company to an agreement not to convert the area to other purposes for a term of years was included in the resolution."

Recommended By Commission

The city planning commission previously has recommended to the council that a permit be issued to Nesco to construct the lot.

The councilmen also voted to accept a dedication to the city by George T. Lukeman, Jr., of a water main on Woodland street, and it passed on a second reading an ordinance changing the zone classification of property on the east side of North West street from Beecher avenue to Anna street from residential to a commercial area.

Alderman Chumley announced, in a final matter, that new lightning arresters had been installed at the light plant. In recent weeks two of the plant's generators had been knocked out by lightning bolts.

"We are confident we have eliminated the danger of similar occurrences in the future," Chumley said.

White Hall—A wedding was solemnized at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irven Fisher when their daughter, JoAnn, became the bride of Elmer Dean Daniels of Winchester.

Rev. Ollie Phillips, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, performed the single ring ceremony before members of the immediate families.

The bride wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Patsy Fisher attended her sister and wore a pink suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a family dinner was served. A two tiered wedding cake decorated with roses, made by Patsy Fisher, centered the table.

The bride graduated from the local high school on Monday night of this week and the bridegroom is a graduate of the Winchester high school, class of '51.

The couple left on a short wedding trip and will reside in Alton where they have taken an apartment. Mr. Daniels is employed by the Western Cartridge company there.
